

A black and white photograph of the Washington Monument and the U.S. Capitol building at night, reflected in the water. The monument is the central focus, illuminated and reflected. The Capitol building is visible to the left, also illuminated and reflected. The water in the foreground is calm, creating clear reflections of the buildings and lights. The sky is dark, and the overall scene is serene and iconic.

Guide

WELCOME TO DC!

Like any city, Washington, DC, boasts a wide variety of sumptuous restaurants, though visitors sometimes settle for quick and easy chain options rather than spend time filtering the unknown. This guide, centered around the meeting hotel, should help you discover eating options that cater to your taste and price range.

To facilitate transportation, distances from the hotel or the nearest Metro Station are given with each listing. To fully accommodate our MLA diners, we have noted wheelchair accessibility as well as vegetarian options, though vegetarians should see the full online guide for more detailed indications. Enjoy the weather, and check out the numerous venues with outdoor seating!

In addition to the paper guide, we have created a Google map with extensive listings and more details on the facilities listed here—check out the link, listed on the bottom of every page. The MLA blog also has quite a few restaurant postings, focusing on specific needs and themes. Most of the guide focuses on the popular areas listed below, but we've also included a few other favorites.

- Dupont Circle: About a ten-minute walk south of the hotel, this stop on Metro's Red Line will probably serve as your transportation hub. Luckily, Dupont is a popular local dining spot, and you will find a wide variety of cuisine.
- Adams Morgan: Head ten minutes north of the hotel to another trendy location for dinner and a drink—but don't expect quiet on a weekend!
- U Street/African-American Civil War Memorial/Cardozo: Home to some of the most popular music venues in DC, U Street also has numerous bars and reasonably priced restaurants. Be sure to visit Ben's Chili Bowl for the famous half smoke or savor some Ethiopian food. Located on the Green and Yellow Lines, U Street Station is located a mile east of the hotel.
- Gallery Place/Chinatown and Metro Center: This downtown cluster of multicolored stations offers easy access to some of the best restaurants in the city.
- Georgetown: Off the Metrorail grid, Georgetown restaurants are well worth a bus ride. From Dupont Circle, catch the G2, D2, or the easy Georgetown Metro Connection, which runs every ten minutes from Dupont Circle Station to Georgetown.
- Old Town Alexandria: This historic Virginia neighborhood is about a mile from King Street Station (Yellow and Blue Lines); a free King Street trolley runs every 20 minutes.
- Bethesda: Home to the National Library of Medicine, this Maryland stop on the Red Line also has numerous high-rated restaurants.
